FLOATING HELIPORT — Sikorsky S-55 helicopter takes off from floating heliport moored on the north bank of the Monongahela River in downtown Pittsburgh, the only such structure in the United States. Heliport, measuring 160 feet in length, provides a landing area of 54 x 90 feet and connects downtown Pittsburgh with two major air terminals. City Council Acts To Speed Jennings Ave. Resurfacing

City Council gave first reading Tuesday night to an ordinance affirming the city's willingness to share with the federal government the cost of repaving Jennings Ave.

Special meetings have been called for 5:15 today and 9 p.m. Thursday to give the measure its final two readings.

Mayor Dean B. Cranmer said he has been notified by William McKenna, director of Division 11 of the Ohio Highway Department, that it may be possible to start the repaving project in about 30 days. If the project can't be completed before about the middle of September, it probably will be put off until next year, the mayor stated.

The project has been approved both by the state highway department and the Federal Bureau of Public Roads.

City Engineer F. S. Barckhoff, Jr., has estimated the cost for resurfacing Jennings Ave. from W. State St. to about two-tenths mile south of the north corporation line would be approximately $20,000.

Since Jennings Ave. was recently placed in the federal-aid secondary highway system, the federal government has agreed to share the cost of resurfacing the street on a 50-50 basis with the city. The federal government, however, will not pay any of the cost for raising manhole covers on the street.

If the project costs the estimated $20,000 and the federal government pays half, that would leave $8,000 to be paid by the property owners on Jennings Ave. and $5,000 to be taken care of by city through its income tax capital improvements fund.

Mayor Cranmer said the state highway department has consented to make no restrictions as to parking on Jennings Ave. after the street is repaved. The city plans to continue to allow parking on one side of the street. The state does require, however, that no one be allowed to park on the street from the time the project is started until it is finished.

Plan Hillsdale Sewer

The city engineer reported last night that bids will be advertised in about one week for the extension of sanitary sewers to the Hillsdale district on the south edge of town.

Barckhoff has estimated the total cost for extending the sewer line to Hillsdale would be $15,000-$33, including construction, field work and inspection, serving 156 notices, and interest for one year.

Of this amount the city would pay $4,737.63, while $10,266.70 would be assessed against the property owners. There are 4,224.98 feet of assessable frontage.

Concerned About Trees

Several visitors attended last night's Council meeting to find out how the city intends to go about trimming trees that the state highway department has complained have low hanging limbs which don't allow the proper clearance on state routes for large trucks passing through town.

Most of the visitors sought as surance that the trees would be trimmed properly and not indiscriminately by inexperienced workers.

Mayor Cranmer pointed out that it is the city's responsibility to see that low hanging tree limbs do not interfere with traffic. He said the service department has no expert tree trimmers. "This is a very touchy subject," the mayor remarked.

He suggested that the safety committee of Council consider the Israel Airline Refuses To Fly Soblen to U.S.

Israeli Ambassador Arthur Lourie expressed hope Tuesday night that the three-nation dispute over

Deadline Extended For Soblen's Return

LONDON (AP) — The British government today extended until Friday midnight the deadline for El Al Airlines to take fugitive spy Robert A. Soblen to the United States.

The fugitive American spy would "shortly be satisfactorily resolved." But an embassy spokesman indicated that no solution has been found for the international deadlock.

"If Britain wants to get rid of Dr. Soblen, it will have to change its attitude," the embassy spokesman asserted.

Home Secretary Henry Brooke has ordered the airline, El Al, to fly Soblen out of Britain to New York by midnight. The Israeli government told the airline to transfer him back to Israel only, "and under no circumstances to New York."

Jamaica Opens Door For U.S. Base Use

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP) — If the United States ever needs a military base in newly independent Jamaica, it can establish one without commitments, Prime Minister Sir Alexander Bustamante said Tuesday night.

Bustamante told a news conference the United States has not asked for such a base nor should his statement be construed as an invitation to Washington to set one up on this Caribbean Island 90 miles south of Cuba.

Bustamante said the United States and Jamaica "are friendly nations and the United States can come in when and if it pleases."

The United States maintained bases in Jamaica during World War II under the destroyers-for-bases deal made by the United States and Great Britain. The bases were returned after the war.

Since then, the bulwarks of U.S. defense of the Caribbean approaches to the Panama Canal have been Puerto Rico and the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo

Romney Draws Heavy Support In Michigan

Ran Unopposed for GOP Nomination For Governor Post

By The Associated Press
Former automaker George Romney was Michigan's biggest vote-getter Tuesday as he ran unopposed for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

In other primary elections Tuesday, Sens. Frank Carlson and James B. Pearson won Republican nominations in Kansas and Sen. Edward V. Long, usually a backer of the Kennedy administration, won Democratic nomination in Missouri.

Romney, former president of American Motors, had tallied 380,540 votes with 4,516 of the state's 5,199 precincts counted while Democratic Gov. John B. Swainson, also unopposed, had 266,066 votes.

As expected, Swainson ran ahead in the normally Democratic stronghold of Detroit and Wayne County, while Romney, mentioned as a possible GOP presidential candidate, held a big lead in the usually Republican outstate area.

Voter turnouts were light in all three states with most candidates for major offices having little or

FLORENCE, S.C. (AP) — Fifteen-hundred men of the 82nd Airborne Division parachuted on the Darlington Airport shortly after dawn today in a coordinated air-ground attack by aggressor forces participating in Operation Swift Strike II.

The jump produced a rare sight in that nearly every man of the 1,500-man 325th Battle Group was in the air at the same time. Shortly after the first wave of men jumped, a second wave followed almost on top of the first. There were no casualties.

Meanwhile, a battle group of the 2nd Infantry Division from Ft. Riley, Kan., crossed the Lynches River below Florence. Elements of the 2nd invaded the city, then withdrew.

According to Chief Hum, there have been more fires to date this year than there had been during all of 1962 and interference at these fires is most serious in three areas: At the town hall, en route to the fire when traffic does not yield the right of way, and at the scene where crowds of spectators obstruct fire equipment.

Council then passed a motion that offenders be arrested for these transgressions and hereafter license numbers will be recorded and violators will have to appear in court.

Firemen Robert Ford and "Bud" Hicks also attended the meeting.

Council approved the proposed location of new State Route 11 as shown on maps presented for study by the State Highway Department, and the mayor and members of council will attend the public hearing Tuesday at Dixon School regarding the new road.

Police and movie studio guards were assigned to keep order outside the Chapel of the Palms, in nearby Westwood. By midnight a crowd of 100 already had clustered around the entrance.

Report Says 4,000 Troops Arrive

Landing of Soviets In Cuba Reported

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A Cuban news specialist claims that more than 4,000 Soviet troops have landed in Cuba recently.

In a Spanish broadcast from a Miami station Tuesday, Dr. Salvador attributed his information to travelers from Cuba in a position to know.

The program, "Voice of the People," broadcast by WMIE for Miami's refugee population, said the reported troops were sent in response to Fidel Castro's fear of rebellion.

An associate, Ramiro Boza, declined to name the source of the broadcast information, but said, "We know it is true when this source tells."

There was no immediate comment from the State Department in Washington.

The Associated Press Havana correspondent, George Arfeld, said there had been rumors recently of Soviet troop landings, but none of them could be confirmed.

The Miami broadcast said five Soviet ships landed 2,500 men July 29 at Mariel in western Cuba and four more vessels landed 1,800 troops at Havana July 30-31.

Arfeld said no Russians in uniform could be seen in the streets of Havana. However, he said a Soviet ship docked Tuesday in Havana with what Havana papers called technicians.

Boza, a former editor on the Havana paper El Crisol, said the men the broadcast referred to "were not technicians. They were soldiers."

Jackie, Caroline Visit In Ravello

Get Warm Welcome In Italian Town

RAVELLO, Italy (AP) — Jacqueline Kennedy and Caroline arrived today in a mountainous coastal highway with sheer drops of 1,000 feet to the sea, for an Italian holiday in this little tourist town perched on a cliff.

They were guarded by police for the 25-mile drive over the curving road from the Salerno airport.

The U.S. President's wife and her 4-year-old daughter, who is on her first trip abroad, are staying at an 11th century villa as guests of Prince Stanislaus and Princess Lee Radziwill.

They were welcomed by police for the 25-mile drive over the curving road from the Salerno airport.

The heat was in the sweltering 90s on the highway, which runs along the mountainous Sorrento Peninsula. The peninsula is famous for wine, olives, breathtaking scenery and nerve-wracking roads.

Mrs. Kennedy and a sleepy Caroline arrived in Rome three hours earlier by commercial airliner from New York. They then flew to the airport near Salerno in a small chartered Swiss plane.

The airport near Salerno, a little-used military field, has no concrete runway, only a hardened dirt landing strip.

Mrs. Kennedy was met at the airport by her sister. They made the hour-long drive to Ravello in the Radziwill's big American car.

Police had spent hours this morning checking for mines or plastic bombs along the last, hazardous three miles of the road up to Ravello.

Northern Ministers Join In Albany Feud

ALBANY, Ga. (AP) — The first contingent of a promised "preacher pilgrimage" from other states has arrived in Albany to support integrationists in their battle for equal rights for Negroes.

"Leave the room just as it is and don't let anyone else have it," the 11-times married Mrs. Duncan told Corona Women's Prison officials Tuesday before departing on the 400-mile auto drive to San Quentin.

The body will lie in an open, solid bronze casket lined with champagne-colored velvet. After the services, the casket will be sealed and carried a few yards away to a crypt, where Marilyn will be entombed.

The three principals in charge of final arrangements Tuesday night explained that the rites were made private "so that she can go to her final resting place in the quiet she has always sought."

The Doctor Says

By Dr. H. T. HYMAN

Doctors Cautious About 'Miracle' Drugs

In almost every package of mail I receive there is a complaint from some reader to the effect that the family doctor is "old-fashioned" because he seems slow to prescribe or inject one or other of the newly introduced "miracle drugs" about which there have been enthusiastic reports in magazine articles.

Perhaps the most frequent current examples are furnished by the reputed "break-throughs" in cancer as reported in breathless articles by the clinically inexperienced.

Although the writers of these articles may not be wholly aware of the complexities of the cancer problem, the experienced doctor has learned all too often (and all too regrettably) that animal cancer is not human cancer.

"Cancer cures" that are effective in the treatment of animal malignancy may not (and usually do not) work as effectively if they work at all, in the treatment of human malignancy.

On the other hand, a new drug that has been administered with safety to an experimental animal may not, and often cannot, be given with equal safety to the human subject.

Within recent months, for example, a sedative that appeared effective and safe under laboratory conditions caused the infants born of mothers taking the drug in Europe to come into this difficult world with flippers instead of arms and legs.

A blood pressure reducer (antihypertensive) has just been recalled by the manufacturers because it caused previously unrecognized side effects such as hair loss and visual disturbances. And another manufacturer recalled a tranquilizer that proved damaging to the liver and other organs.

It may not be possible to repeat successes. And side effects, unobserved under laboratory or institutional conditions, may appear every so often in a peculiarly hypersensitive individual.

These side effects become matters of prime significance when they result in serious incapacitation or even death in the case of a single human patient.

Thus, with all due reverence to those responsible for innovations and advances in medical treatment, the doctor you criticize as "old-fashioned" may merely be one who is unwilling to have the student barber learn his trade by "shaving on your face."

U.S. Soviet Test Ban Truce Seems Unlikely

An AP News Analysis

WASHINGTON (AP) — Spy in the sky but not on the ground. That sums up the Russian attitude towards the American effort to reach agreement with the Soviets on a treaty banning nuclear tests.

It dampens hope, built up over the past few weeks, that through a refinement in the American technique of detecting underground tests the two sides after 17 years of trying might agree on a test ban.

On Monday the Russians once more belittled the proposal the United States had in mind.

In the old days the nations kept tabs on one another's big weapon development by man-spying.

Now, through sensitive instruments, the nations can spy on one another by what happens in the sky: A nuclear blast above ground can be detected thousands of miles away.

The United States was less sure its instruments were keen enough to tell the difference, in an underground disturbance, between an earthquake and a secret Russian test.

Over the years the United States has argued the only way to prevent cheating—if there is a test ban treaty—is to have inspectors inside the territory of the nuclear nations.

The Russians, calling this a spy system, have almost consistently said no. Which boil down to this: If you're going to spy it will have to be in the sky, not inside Russia.

Recently this country has developed its detection instruments to a point where it is believed the United States feels fewer inspectors would be needed in Russia, and fewer here.

Therefore, this country was ready to make new proposals and send U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean back with them to the 17th annual disarmament conference at Geneva.

Nevertheless, President Kennedy made plain at his news conference last week that this country would still insist upon the principle of some inspection.

Dean, back in Geneva, discussed the latest American offer Sunday and Monday with Soviet Delegate Valerian Zorin.

And Monday, Zorin brushed it off. He said that Dean returned to Geneva with appeared to be based on the "same old American proposals" which Russia had turned down before.

Dean said he wanted to talk to Zorin some more before presenting the proposals to the full conference. All this made prospects for a test ban look as dim as always, although the need for it grows more urgent:

The United States, not to be outdone in developing new nuclear techniques, felt it had to resume testing after the Russians resumed last fall. This country is still testing.

Now the Russians have begun a new test series. This may cause the United States, not to be outdone, to feel it has to have a new series, too. This, in turn, will mean more Russian tests if they think they're being outdone.

Future generations, if there are any, may look back on all this as the most blazing example of international insanity in the history of mankind. But as of now both sides seem to think they're perfectly normal, if uneasy.

East Liverpool Petition On Tax Vote Held Invalid

EAST LIVERPOOL — Because of false affidavits on four petitions, the Trades and Labor Council's initiative ordinance asking repeal of the city's controversial income tax will not be certified to the County Election board for a ballot place at the Nov. 6 general election, City Auditor Lawrence C. Applegate said today.

Because of the false affidavits, which threw out four petitions containing 360 names, and other discrepancies, which eliminated 89 more signatures, the petitions contained only 703 valid signatures, 173 short of 876 required by law, Applegate said.

In ruling the petitions insufficient, the auditor acted after receiving an opinion from Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper concerning the effect of the false affidavits in which the city's legal adviser held that where two signatures were written by one person in the presence of the circulator that the circulator's affidavit was false and the part-petition to which it appended must be rejected in whole.

The auditor's ruling came just one day prior to the deadline for certifying the initiative ordinance to the Election Board. The deadline is Wednesday at 4 p.m.

The 20 petitions seeking repeal of the tax were circulated by Trades and Labor Council and turned over to the auditor July

The More You Think About It

A credo has grown up since the 1960 presidential election that President Eisenhower could have swung enough votes to Richard M. Nixon to elect him president if he had worked harder.

Mr. Eisenhower subscribed to this himself in an interview in Copenhagen last month when he said, "The worst mistake I made was in not working harder to elect the man I thought should be my successor."

This is the kind of belief that too easily gets threaded into the warp and woof of history and ultimately is pointed to as truth instead of speculation. It shouldn't be allowed to happen.

It is not even solid speculation that Dwight Eisenhower had the power to make or break the Nixon candidacy. People who continued to think of the great wartime hero as the greatest of all peacetime figures were certain to become fewer in number and weaker in conviction as time passed. Admiration for Mr. Eisenhower as a warm and attractive individual could not be translated into votes as easily in 1960 as in 1952 and 1956.

ASIDE FROM THIS limitation on President Eisenhower's political influence was another limitation that was related to his young vice president's political problem, which was how to emerge as his chief's successor without seeming to be a substitute.

Mr. Nixon needed to gain all the stature he could in his own right. Most of all he needed to be his own man, which he always had wanted to be even when he was deferring to the Eisenhower leadership.

If it had appeared during the campaign that he was running under Dwight Eisenhower's sponsorship, or following in his tracks, his candidacy would have been hurt. He knew what all political realists had known since the Eisenhower nomination in 1960 — that he became the nominee because he could win the election and that he could win the election because he had won the war in Europe. There was no percentage in following in his footsteps; he was unique.

IT CANNOT BE proved that a little more effort on his part could have elected Richard Nixon.

It cannot be proved that a little less effort could have defeated Nixon. It is just as reasonable to speculate that a little less identity with the Eisenhower administration might have attracted more votes to Nixon than he attracted — perhaps enough more to have offset the Democratic strategy of nailing down the electoral votes of the key states with majorities piled up in the big cities.

Let's Not And Dream We Did

We aren't sure everybody in the world felt the way we were supposed to feel about Marilyn Monroe. We aren't sure we felt that way about her ourselves.

But now that her tempestuous, over-stressed, overpublicized and under-organized life has disintegrated in self-destruction, it seems to be important to look inside ourselves to try to understand about movie stars.

The last previous time we had a female sex symbol like Marilyn Monroe was Jean Harlow a generation ago. For the women there once was Rudolph Valentino, and for the girls in the current generation there was that young Jimmy Dean.

This isn't a one-time-only thing. It's a folktale, and it isn't peculiar to Americans. Europeans and Asiatics, too, become enraptured of these shadows they see on screens — shadows called Mary Pickford, Yvonne Montand, Leslie Caron, Frank Sinatra. They pattern their lives after them, try to look like them, dress like them and make the same impression that these figments of the camera, lighting experts, makeup experts, puppets who put life into their actions and writers who put words into their mouths have invented for our amusement.

ACTORS become shadow gods whose gestures and inflections are packed with signs and portents — a kind of make-believe royalty attended by retinues and retainers and whose constant obligation is to please the PUBLIC. That's us.

To this end a jostling, shouting mob of publicists must surround them when they are not surrounded by jostling, shouting mobs of admirers. And when they finally have waved, blown kisses and signed autographs until they must rest, they are surrounded in private by cliques of managers.

Moving Ahead

With legal hurdles cleared, thanks to City Council's cooperation on a zoning law clarification, the Salem Label Company is going to proceed with its previously-announced $175,000 expansion program.

Construction of a plant addition for its growing business will permit the nation's oldest label company to put more workers on the payroll, which is another bright note on our community's enviable industrial front. We hope that the label company's next 100 years is equally enterprising.

Whose President?

By Truman Twill

There must be times when boys whose mothers told them they could grow up to be president if they took their medicine like little men are glad they didn't make it.

Being president of the United States — if that's what the voting mothers meant — shouldn't even happen to a Republican and rarely does. On the other hand, if the voting mothers meant being president of General Motors, or the Bell System, that would be all right. They have only one mandate, which is to look after General Motors and the Bell System.

The president of the United States has a mandate from everybody. His job is to take care of everybody. It says in the Constitution he's responsible for being the president of all of us — literally, because all of us are the sovereign power. It says that in the Constitution too.

But do we give our presidents the benefit of the doubt in the light of this all-important fact?

Do we try to understand what the man is up against when he's looking out for the interests of that so-and-so down the street, instead of sitting down for a visit with us?

Do we try to comprehend what it would be like if our mothers had been right and we had become president of the United States — if we were in the presidential shoes for a few months?

Our cronies would expect us to look out for them first. All people identified with our interest groups would expect us to look out for them first.

Our co-religionists would want us to take care of them. People from the same state and area would demand that we pay special attention to them.

The faithful of our party would claim they had more coming than the faithful of the other party. And most strident of all would be the clamor for special consideration for fellow citizens who would welcome a chance to cut our throat.

We would have to be their president with as much gusto as we'd feel about being the president of our friends. We would be denied the privilege of lopping off the heads of vicious opponents and shoving their nittied followers to the wall.

Moreover, we'd run the risk of being as despised as Abraham Lincoln, not to say being shot like a sitting bird by some fanatic or assassin.

The question is whether mothers still tell their sons they can grow up to be presidents some day if they behave like little men. And if they do, are there any kids left educated enough not to snarl, "One more low blast like that, Mater, and I'll let you have a sharp blow across the eyebrows!"?

Where this is going to lead to it is too soon to say, but where it has led to so far is no secret. The shine has been taken off the presidency for the small fry of America.

Why would anyone grow up wanting to be a target for all the vituperation and bitterness of this widely undisciplined nation that yammers tirelessly about how smart and understanding it is, then makes a mockery of the highest office by smearing its occupant with slanders?

Somebody tell me. I don't know.

And, Keep Your Dirty Feet Off My Carpets!

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

TEHERAN, IRAN
As you swing from the Black Sea to the Caspian Sea borders of the Soviet Union, you run into concentrated evidence of Chairman man Khrushchev's desperation. For more than a year now there has been a mammoth, unreported, national slowdown and sabotage of his vast industrial network from Leningrad, across 5,000 miles to Vladivostok. To restore "labor discipline," Khrushchev has restored Stalinist firing squads and Vorkuta — Type concentration camps.

Just as this column a year ago reported the first use of gun smoke to spread a pall of terror over the Soviet working people, it now can be reported for the first time that the Soviet Union's equivalent of our state supreme courts has sentenced at least 67 men and women to death by rifle fire in the past 14 months.

There is no appeal from these courts. Executions are carried out within 48 hours. These judges also have sentenced hundreds of others to special "slave labor camps" this past year for terms ranging up to 15 years.

THESE SENTENCES have been for economic "crimes."

Men, and women too, literally have stood up against a wall and shot for making profits in apples, lipsticks, foreign gold coins, subcontracting of well-drilling work and simple arbitrage of money which happens every day on the streets of a score of European cities.

Obviously Khrushchev and his presidium feel they must again frighten their proletariat into docility and back-breaking work speedups.

Obviously Khrushchev is using the firing squad for more than legal punishment for those who make a few extra rubles out of black market lipsticks and the wholesaling of apples. Khrushchev's bunplay terror can mean only a secret revival of the Birov type of GPU.

I believe there is evidence to show that Khrushchev — despite his growing good-humored repartee with foreign visitors — is worried that the Khrushchev bloc is losing its hold on the people. Part of the evidence has gone generally undetected.

IT IS NOTED ONLY by those who have been observers of changes in the Soviet law. Witness this:

Until May 1961 Soviet citizens could be executed under their new constitution only for "treason to the homeland, espionage, subversion, a terrorist act, premeditated murder committed under aggravating circumstances and banditry." This sounds reasonable — except of course, when the United States insists on the same right of self-protection.

Suddenly on May 1, 1961, the law was changed. Seven new crimes were made punishable by death by "shooting." Mark these closely:

They are "making and passing counterfeit money, currency speculation; pilfering state and public property in especially large amounts; certain categories of rape; assault on administrators of prison or labor camps, or terrorization of prisoners by hardened criminals; attempts on the life of policemen or citizen volunteers; and giving and extorting bribes "under especially aggravating circumstances."

Note that in February of this year the death penalty, which is disappearing across the civilized world, was further extended to cover management and people.

FROM FEBRUARY on persons in "responsible positions" who had been previously convicted or who have taken repeated bribes or extorted them "under especially aggravating circumstances" can be legally shot to death. Note the word "or." This means that any Communist management man, whom the government believes has failed his government, believes has failed his schedule, or in whose installation there has been a shortage of funds can be killed by a firing squad.

Note too that the Communist leadership put itself in a position to execute those who might attempt to assault labor camp guards. Note that here is official admission that there are such concentration camps.

As for the move to protect the "citizen volunteer," this springs from the re-creation of the old house-by-house, street-by-street spy system of the old Stalin days.

One of the most publicized

Soviet phenomenon is the "social assembly." It is operated by secret police and the Komsomol, the Young Communist League. It is supposed to be a spontaneous gathering of indignant citizens.

They can be a committee of "patriots" from one apartment house or a street. They sit at the social assemblies seek out a court. They judge "anti-social parasitic elements."

THEY ARE SUPPOSED to judge only the local youth when it becomes obtrusive. Actually

the social assemblies seek out the young people who may go in for Red beatnikism or who prefer cultural pursuits or who just don't want to work

Labor is scarce. So the social assemblies spy out the kids who are taking it easy — and these peoples street courts can sentence

the youngsters to forced labor in exile, which means far-off

Siberian construction projects or prison work camps.

If Khrushchev is not in trouble,

he is practicing sadism without a license.

NOTE: The author is a former member of the Komsomol.

Jodine Moore Is Bride Of Donald Leroy Denny

The Bethel United Church of Christ at Beloit was the locale Sunday of the wedding of Miss Jodine Moore, daughter of Earl K. Moore of RD 4, Salem, and the late Matilda S. Moore.

Donald Leroy Denny, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Denny of RD 2, Beloit.

Rev. Richard Borngen officiated at the 2:30 p.m. double ring ceremony before an altar banked with ferns and palms and decorated with vases of white gladioli and daisy pompons. White candles in seven-branch candelabra tied with white satin bows and encircled with trailing ivy lighted the scene.

Marshall Bailey presided at the organ and Joseph Orin of Canton was soloist.

Escorted down an aisle whose pews ends were marked with white satin bows centered with small flower clusters, by her grandfather, M. S. Schnell, who gave her in marriage, the bride was dressed in a floor length gown of white nylon organza. The molded bodice of re-embroidered Venice lace had a scooped neckline and brief sleeves, and a wide shadow hemline accented the full bouffant organza skirt. A circlet of pearlized orange blossoms held her veil of silk illusion and she wore matching sheer nylon elbow length gloves. Her bouquet was a cascade arrangement of snowflake chrysanthemums on a white lace prayer book.

Wearing identically fashioned gowns were Miss Shirley Baird, maid of honor, in melon color, and bridesmaids, Mrs. Maurice Dickson of Columbiana, Miss Meredith Denny, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Judy Robison of Bellaire, in maize.

They wore matching pill-box hats with front bow and short circlet veils and white gloves. Their bouquets were crescent cascade arrangements of green Fuji mums with coral and beige pompons.

In a miniature replica of the attendants' gowns, Miss Pam Borngen was flower girl.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: When I sew and cut a new pattern I pin the material to the bare mattress and put the pattern on top of it. The pins will stick to the mattress very satisfactorily. I find that I can cut the material this way. I have more space to fit the entire pattern and move my material, and can cut more at one time. And by removing all the bedclothes, I don't cut the bed-spread! pin crocheted pieces to the mattress to dry on the days that they are laundered instead of ironing them. I put pieces of plastic under the crocheted item that has been washed.

MRS. T. CHAUBEAX

DEAR HELOISE: When white plaster walls have small holes made from hanging pictures, and you don't have time to order crack-filler... just put a white, powdered kitchen cleaner in a small bowl and mix it to a thick consistency with white shoe polish. Fill the hole with this mixture and smooth it.

When the mixture dries, the hole cannot be detected.

MARGERY E. ANDERSON

DEAR HELOISE: The bane of my existence is that my children hold the refrigerator door open to get a drink of ice water. My solution is:

I fill six or eight soda pop bottles with water each morning and put them in our refrigerator and let them get real cold. Thirsty children open the refrigerator door ONCE now, grab their bottle and away they go.

No dirty glasses, cups or bother for tired mother.

My children are delighted with this arrangement and it has saved my disposition too.

MRS. C. CHABROW

DEAR HELOISE: To remove heat and moisture marks, spots and rings from table tops, dip a damp cloth in cigar ashes. I found that cigarette ashes just wouldn't do) and rub the spot.

Wipe with another clean cloth that has been slightly dampened and then a dry one. The spot will be gone! Wax or polish as usual.

This does take a little elbow grease but I think it is worth it.

MRS. E. K. MOORE

I just tried this and it works works projects in a threatened recession.

Dirkson made no predictions about the fate of a committee-approved mass transportation bill. The Democratic policy committee did not act on it Tuesday when it cleared the drug and farm bills for later Senate consideration.

He said Saturday Senate meetings will be the order of the day for the rest of the session.

Mansfield said the drug bill will follow the farm bill. He would not go beyond that in scheduling any measures.

Probe Into Thalidomide Drug Reveals Interesting Facts

(Last of a series)
By STUART H. LOORY
Herald Tribune News Service

CINCINNATI — Question: What link is there between women given thalidomide at a critical time during their pregnancy, and denying female rats a ration of riboflavin (vitamin B-2) during their pregnancy?

Answer: In many cases, both the women and the rats give birth to deformed offspring.

If you are a scientist looking for a solution to the tragic thalidomide mystery, this question and answer might ring a bell.

You search medical literature and come across the work performed by Dr. Josef Warkany of the University of Cincinnati Medical School and Children's Hospital here 22 years ago.

DR. WARKANY, who has devoted a lifetime to the study of congenital malformations, performed these experiments:

He withdrew riboflavin from the diets of a colony of pregnant rats. They gave birth to offspring suffering from cleft palate, abnormally short limbs and other malformations of their skeletons.

Then he gave galactoflavin — a substance that is a chemical antagonist of riboflavin — to pregnant mice. The baby mice were born with even more severe malformations than those suffered by the rat offspring denied riboflavin.

In fact, now that hindsight is possible, the defects suffered by Dr. Warkany's rodents were strikingly similar to the defects suffered by thousands of human infants born to mothers who took the sleeping pill thalidomide.

If that sounds like a slim connection, consider this fact:

One of the side effects suffered by some persons who took thalidomide was that they developed an inflammation of the tongue and sores in other parts of the mouth. The sores resembled those suffered by people deficient in the vitamin B complex. When the thalidomide patients were treated with extra vitamin B, in England, their mouth sores healed.

IN A RECENT ISSUE of The British Medical Journal, Drs. Ian M. Lek and E.L.M. Millar of the University of Birmingham discuss this association, and point out that thalidomide could work in

Northwest County Court

Four persons were fined and five others forfeited bonds in traffic cases handled during the past week in Judge Luther Donbar's Northwest Columbiana County Court here.

Fined were:

Donald Greenamyer, Benton Rd., RD 1, Salem, speeding, $10; Ben Bratton, RD 1, North Benton, crossing yellow line, $5; James Lee Pence Akron, speeding, $10; and Perry Edward Payne, Cleveland, crossing yellow line, $5.

Forfeiting bonds were:

Juanita Alice Bosworth of Warren, crossing yellow line, $20

William G. Faith, Sebring, speeding, $15; Allen E. Campbell, Sebring, speeding, $15; Karl Knapp, Akron, speeding, $15; and Daniel Eugene Bridge, Salineville, speeding, $15.

States bordering Canada produce the most U.S. Christmas trees, with surpluses from these states being shipped to other states. For example, Montana ships most of its annual production of three million trees to all but 30 states.

DR. SMITHILLS' study confirmed the association between thalidomide and the now-familiar "seal-limbs" type of birth malformation. In fact, he found that the drug had caused deformities in epidemic proportions in the area around Liverpool.

He also uncovered the apparent fact that half the mothers who gave birth to children with the characteristic thalidomide deformities had not taken the drug.

It is possible, Dr. Smithills wrote in a recent issue of The Lancet, another British journal, that the mothers simply forgot they had taken the controversial drug. Some of the malformations, he continued, might be traceable to virus infections suffered by the mothers early in pregnancy.

Liverpool is one of the few places in the world where statistics are kept on congenital malformations. In most of the United States, for example, doctors need not report the birth of the congenitally malformed. Thus we have no way of knowing how serious a condition it is and can receive little hint from studies on where to look for its causes.

Do You Remember?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Life is a hoard of remembrances. The more you have to remember, the more you have lived; none is poor who is rich in memories.

You have made quite a journey through time if you can look back and remember when—

You had to crank a telephone to get the operator, and when she responded, you said, "Hello, central"—and then told her who you wanted.

Bob Hope was an obscure young song-and-dance man living out of a vaudeville trunk.

Movies were silent, and background music was provided by a neighborhood piano teacher—usually dumpy and middle-aged, so the patrons wouldn't bother her.

During exciting scenes she always played the "Overture from William Tell."

When you asked a stranger what time it was, he reached in his vest pocket for his watch instead of looking at his wrist.

Elderly men always kept their change in a snap-shut coin purse.

Many a farmer made up his mind what and when to plant according to what the almanac said—and not by what the government ordered.

You could order a fine set of false teeth by mail. They might not fit very well, but then a fellow didn't have to wear them except in church, while attending a funeral, or other formal functions.

Farm girls wore dresses made from flour or grain sacks, accented by a dime store ribbon in their hair.

People walked so much that paring corns was the most popular form of home surgery.

Boys wore long black stockings that usually had a hole in the right knee caused by playing marbles.

The biggest showoff in the block was the kid who had saved up enough pennies to buy a Boy Scout knife. He wore it dangling from a string around his neck, so everybody would be sure to see it.

Every farmer was reported to keep a shotgun primed with bacon rind to fire at youngsters who tried to loot his watermelon patch at ripening time. If you got hit, the pieces of bacon rind stung like a thousand bumblebees.

Nobody was on a diet, and if you didn't order a second helping of every dish set before you, the hostess took it as a personal criticism of her cooking—and might cry after you left.

The fellow who had enough time to go down to the depot and watch the morning train arrive, and the evening train leave, was widely regarded as a pretty shiftless character.

The local druggist diagnosed more illnesses than the local doctor—and didn't charge you for consultation.

Only city people got up by the alarm clock. In town and country the rooster served the same purpose.

When a wise youth went courting, it wasn't merely romance that led him to hold a girl's hand. The number of calluses in her palm told him how much she helped her mother around the house—and whether she'd make him a good hard-working wife.

Edwards Paces Tribe to 2nd In Row Over Tigers 4-2

Essegian, Doc Blast Homers

Donovan Seeks 16th Tonight At Boston

BOSTON (AP) — Suddenly it's spring again for the Cleveland Indians, who have a good chance to win three in a row for the first time in more than a month.

Dick Donovan (15-4), shooting to become the first Cleveland hurler to win 20 games since 1956, faces Boston's Gene Conley (9-10) in tonight's game.

Tribe Wins 5 of 14

The Indians swept two from Detroit to close out their longest home stand of the season with only five victories and nine defeats.

Doc Edwards, with a home run, double and two singles in four trips, led Cleveland to Tuesday's 4-2 triumph over the Tigers. Jim Grant (5-4) won his first game since June 15, with a strong relief job from Pedro Ramos.

Edwards' first inning homer, two sacrifice flies by Tito Francona and a tremendous homer by Chuck Essegian, his 17th, accounted for the Tribe runs.

Steve Boros' homer in the fifth, the first hit off Grant, matched Edwards' shot over the left field fence.

Essegian Raps Homer

The Indians came right back to grab the lead in the fifth on Grant's bloop single, Edwards' double over the third base bag and Francona's fly. Essegian made it 3-1 in the sixth. It became 4-1 in the next inning when Ty Cline was hit by a pitch, raced to third on Edwards' bloop single and tallied on Francona's fly.

When Bob Osborne singled to lead off the eighth, Ramos relieved and got deeper into trouble as Vic Wertz cracked a double. But Ramos bore down and got the next three men. One run scored on Dick McLaughlin's fly.

Summer Basketball

The undefeated Cagers rolled to their 10th straight win by beating Shaffer's 54-28 in one of three Summer Basketball League games played at Centennial Park Tuesday.

In other games Gord's Bearcats ripped Speck's Specs behind a 42-point effort by Gordon Lease, 100-72 and Bodick's Bombers nipped Butler's Bearcats 88-82.

Odom's Trips Italian Club 10-6 In Class A Playoff Tilt

Lincoln Machine Scores 2 Wins In District Tourney

Lincoln Machine chalked up two straight victories Tuesday in the opening games of the District 14 Fastpitch Softball Tournament at Kelley Park.

The local Class AA aggregation, which finished third in the county tourney just completed, bumped Bloomingdale - Wintersville 9-8 and then took on the Minerva Mallernee Olds nine for its second win of the night 6-5 as three home runs accounted for all of Lincoln's runs.

LINCOLN MACHINE IS now 17-9 on the season and will meet the winner of the Unionport - Old Dutch battle. Both Bloomingdale and Minerva now drop to the losers' bracket of the double elimination tournament.

In the only other game played last night, Class A league-leader

Odom's Sohio rolled to a 10-6 victory over the Italian Club in the first of a two-out-of-three playoff series. No details were available on the game.

Bloomingdale moved into the scoring column first and took a 10 lead in the top of the third canto. Lincoln came right back with two tallies on singles by Jack Jackson and Casey Lease to take a 2-1 lead which it never lost.

Lincoln proceeded to roll to a 9-1 margin after six stanzas of action as the final seven tallies were produced on a total of nine hits. Pacing the nine-hit, seven-run rally were Charley Marks with two triples, Bill Crookston and Gene Hammett with two singles each, Jerry Mountz with a triple and Wayne Hahn with a double.

Bob Shoff was the winning hurler as he allowed Bloomingdale just three singles. Shoff ran into trouble in the top of the seventh when the losers pushed four runs across the plate on a walk, two errors and two singles. Shoff fanned eight batters.

Crookston with three hits paced the 13-hit attack for Lincoln. Lincoln was guilty of committing seven miscues to the losers' three.

In its second game of the evening Lincoln found itself in the same boat as in the tilt against Bloomingdale. Minerva moved to the second-place San Francisco Giants remained 4½ games behind the Dodgers by defeating Philadelphia 4-2, and Lew Burdette hurled Milwaukee to a 4-1 triumph over the Chicago Cubs.

Fight Results

RICHMOND, Calif. — Charlie Sipes, 140½, Oakland, Calif., knocked out Oscar Ortegon, 140, Fresno, Calif. 6.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — Ollie Blackshear, 135, Houston, Tex., knocked out Pedro Rodriguez, 134½, Mexico, 4.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. — Manuel Burgo, 152, New Bedford, appointed Vernon Lamar, 152, New Brunswick, N.J., 10.

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — Bobby Scanlon, 138½, San Francisco, outpointed Al Medrano, 137½, Sacramento, 10.

Sportsman Club Meets

The Beaver Creek Sportsman Club will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. in the club building on the Washingtonville-Canfield Rd. to complete plans for the annual family day, Gene Morrow, club president, announced today.

TONIGHT'S GAMES

North-South Battle Set For Friday In Canton

Out-of-State Colleges Lure Gridders

By FRITZ HOWELL

Associated Press Sports Writer

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Out-of-state collegiate gridirons are proving irresistible magnets for Ohio's top high school stars who will appear here Friday night in the 17th annual North-South football game.

28 Enter Out-of-State Colleges

Of the 50 youngsters, 28 have decided to slip over the Buckeye borders to 16 foreign schools for their college careers. Twenty-one will attend 10 Ohio institutions and the other has not made up his mind.

Fourteen of the 22 starters have chosen out-of-state schools, but

Ohio skimmed much of the cream off the top.

Ohio State coach Woody Hayes gets seven of the players. Nine of the talented high school graduates picked other Big 10 schools, with Michigan and Purdue getting three each, Indiana two and Michigan State one.

Here's how Ohio schools fared:

Kettering Fairmont, and Gary

the Riceland Country Club Sunday

near Wooster.

Mahon, playing in the A Flight, tied with Gus Peterson of Alliance, both firing 75's. The Colum-biana golfer locked up the third spot when Peterson defaulted in the playoff.

Laughlin garnered the third place rung in the B Flight after he tied for second with Paul Ng-enachewiler of Massillon and then was defeated in a playoff.

Both tallied 77's after the 18 holes.

Another Columbian linksman,

Hebert Ready To Defend Title

Predicts 280 Will Win Golf Classic

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Defending champion Jay Hebert, who seems to own a lock and key on the 7,165-yard Firestone Country Club course, predicts an even par 280 will be the winning score in the $50,000 American Golf Classic, which starts Thursday.

Hebert won the PGA title with a 281 on the Firestone course two years ago and posted a 278 in capturing the initial American Classic last August.

"The course is playing beautifully with the greens much better than in former years," declared Hebert after carding a two-over-par 72 in a tuneup round Tuesday.

The Louisiana native has failed to crash the winner's circle since last year's classic.

"I have to get reacquainted with this course," Hebert said. He is 21st on the pro list with $18,567 this season.

Tommy Jacobs fired a nifty 65 in a practice round, which included an eagle on the 500-yard par 5 No. 2 hole. Doug Sanders closed with three straight birdies and a 66 after getting a double bogey on No. 9.

Walt Burkemo, Mike Souchak and Jon Gustin also broke par with 69s, while Howie Johnson, Lionel Hebert, Dave Ragan and Paul Bondeson matched par with 70s.

Hot Stove Leagues

Three one-hitters, two three-hitters and one shutout were recorded in Hot Stove League play Tuesday.

Class E

The CIO 3372 aggregation scored a narrow one-run victory over the Salem FW by the tally of 5-4.

The winners built up a 4-0 margin in the first two frames but the VFW tied the count in the top of the third with a four-run rally sparked by three singles.

CIO CAPTURED THE tilt in the last of the third with Jim Hippel's double powering the way.

Don Kendrick was the winning pitcher as he allowed three singles, one each to Jim Garrett, Ken Marshall and Ed Dangler.

Rick Parlontieri paced the CIO with two safeties.

Class F

The first round of the Shaughnessy Playoffs saw the league champion Elks win over Eljer on a forfeit and Mullins pull an upset by handing the Farmers Bank a 17-0 pasting.

The winners move on to the winners bracket of the double elimination affair while the losers drop to the losers' bracket.

Mullins, which tallied a 1-13 league mark, tallied six times in the second, three in the third and finished up with eight runs in the fourth.

Doug Plastow provided the big bat as he rapped a grand slam homer in the second canto. Mark Annis and Walt Johnson collected two safeties apiece for the winners.

Johnson was the winning pitcher as he allowed a single to Chris Christofaris in the top of the fifth for the Bank's only safety.

Class G

The Lions Club continued on the losing trail as it dropped its 17th straight without a win 8-5 to Hunt's Independent Union.

Hunt's moved to a 7-1 lead after three frames and coasted to its victory.

A total of seven walks, three miscues and four singles powered the Hunt's nine to its eighth win in 16 starts.

DON MCKINNEY WAS the big man in the Lions' attack as he rapped a homer and a triple. George Spack, Scott Koenrich, Tim Boughton and Bill Helmick socked singles for the winners.

The K of C tallied in every inning but the first as it rolled to a 12-5 win over the National Cleaners.

The Cleaners kept the battle nip-and-tuck for the first three frames by taking leads of 1-0 and 3-2 before the K of C went ahead to stay 4-3 in the third inning.

John Mlinarcik with a triple and a single featured for the winners. Dave Cleckner and Tom Emmerling chipped in with two singles each for the K of C.

George Christofaris with three hits showed the way for the Cleaners. Rick Liber chalked up two doubles for the losers.

Class H

Merchants Vending tallied an unearned run in the last of the fifth canto to break a 3-3 deadlock and score a 4-3 win over Ailes Insurance.

Herbert Allows 3 Hits In White Sox Victory; A's Belt Nats

Yankees End Losing Streak, Paste Twins 14-1; Angels Win

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The regular Wednesday meeting of the second guessers society will now come to order.

The subject of today's session is manager Mike Higgins of the Boston Red Sox.

Wilson Leads in 9th

The Los Angeles Angels were playing the Red Sox Tuesday, and no-hit pitcher Earl Wilson was sailing along without allowing an Angel past second base. The Sox were leading, 1-0. Wilson got the first man in the ninth.

Then Billy Moran blooped a single to right. Lee Thomas got the first walk off Wilson.

Now, second guessers, do you go to the bullpen?

Higgins, who had only one guess, did. Arnold Earley came in, wild pitched the runners along, walked Leon Wagner to load the bases, and yielded a two-run single to Bob Rodgers. Dick Radatz took over and gave up the final run on a sacrifice fly.

Los Angeles 3, Boston 1. Well, better luck next time, Mike.

Elsewhere in the American League, the New York Yankees shoved Minnesota five games behind with a 14-1 pasting. Ray Herbert pitched the Chicago White Sox to a 4-0 win over the Baltimore Orioles.

The Kansas City Athletics trounced the Washington Senators 10-3 in the only night game on the card.

The Yankee-Twins game was played between two violent rain storms that came too early and too late for the Minnesota team.

Tony Kubek, in his first time at bat since he returned from nine months of Army duty, smashed a three-run homer that capped a five-run Yankee first inning.

Camilo Pascual (15-7) was the 12-3 for the year.

The White Sox got all their runs on five singles in the fourth, with Al Smith and Camilo Carreon each collecting a two-run hit.

There was no reason to go to the bullpen in Kansas City, where Bill Fischer pitched his third straight complete game. It was also the third straight complete job for the once downtrodden Athletics staff, and the fifth straight win for Kansas City.

The A's now have won 10 in a row over the Senators, and are now 10-3 for the year.
